

Call for Papers

SPRF Legal Series

Our platform invites post-graduate students, early-career scholars, academics, and lawyers to publish with us. SPRF is committed to exploring the relationship between legislation and public policy. Our approach is intra and inter-disciplinary with a strong focus on answering questions that can shape policy. We cover a wide range of legal studies, from human rights to tech law.

We invite papers covering on issues of (but not limited to):

- Gender and Queer Rights
- Disability Rights
- Legal System Reform
- Discrimination and Law
- Minority Rights
- Intellectual Property Rights
- Law, Technology, and Humans
- Affirmative Action

Submission Guidelines

- Full papers shall be sent directly along with a mandatory 300 word abstract and author bio.
- Papers can be between 1500-3500 words.
- Please ensure that your submissions are sent across in a doc or docx. format. Other formats will not be accepted.
- All citations shall be in APA 7th edition format. Papers with improper referencing will not be considered.
- Do not share pieces that have been previously published elsewhere.
- There is no deadline. We accept submissions throughout the year.
- All submissions should be sent to fahad@sprf.in with the subject line “Legal Series Paper for Consideration – [paper title]”.

We strongly encourage individuals from all marginalised communities to share their work. We request you to highlight this in your submission for our easier discernment.
